INFORMATION RISK MANAGEMENT

Spotswood Consulting, Inc. is a leading information risk management consulting firm that is 100% focused on data risk management. We are committed to helping our customers identify and mitigate the risks inherent in today's interconnected environments and business processes. Spotswood Consulting realizes that when it comes to helping businesses protect their critical information assets, the stakes could not be higher.

Aimed exclusively toward the real-world information risk management requirements of small, midmarket and divisions of Global 1000 companies, Spotswood Consulting provides key consulting services and expertise in information security risk analysis, business continuity and disaster recovery planning, security compliance, incident response and data forensics, eDiscovery, and security event management services. Spotswood Consulting is staffed with subject matter experts that have between 15 and 25 years' experience to their credit and possess a list of certifications that include: CISSP (Certified Information Systems Security Professional); CISM (Certified Information Security Manager); CISA (Certified Information Systems Auditor); CSSA (Certified SCADA Security Architect); INFOSEC; and many other technical certifications, as well as Fellow of the Business Continuity Institute.

Spotswood Consulting's team emphasizes the transfer of knowledge during each engagement. Spotswood Consulting welcomes your staff to observe our activities first hand as we discover root cause problems that may be exposing your critical data. We always employ methods that best address your primary business goals and objectives. This enables your staff to perpetuate an ongoing information security due diligence program based on our findings that are specific to your needs.

Spotswood Consulting will help you comply with existing and emerging regulatory requirements while advising you on how to maintain an ongoing security program that goes beyond basic compliance mandates. We know that although federal and state regulations provide a fundamental component of information security, by no means do they include all the requirements necessary to protect data. We will ensure you meet your compliance obligations and help you develop the privacy, audit, and risk management functions to secure your critical data.
